

The Architectural Heritage Committee of AIA Tampa Bay presents
SUMMER EXPLORING ARCHITECTURE STUDIO

July 14 – 25, 2008

Have You Considered a Career in Architecture?

Have you ever dreamed of designing buildings, bridges or parks? If that sounds exciting, then (SEAS) Summer Exploring Architecture Studio at the Tampa Bay AIA office is for you. This program is designed to assist you in making an intelligent choice about a possible career in architecture and other design disciplines. You will learn about careers in architecture, landscape architecture and urban design planning. We'll introduce you to successful architects, take you on tours of architectural landmarks and teach you basic design principles. It's a great way to try on a career before you start college.

Take Great Field Trips to Architectural Landmarks

This workshop will keep you on the move with exciting tours to well-known locations such as the Tampa Bay Hotel and Plant Park, Kiley Gardens, Tampa City Hall and many other historic buildings, as well as, new and exciting projects within Tampa's urban core.

Talk to Successful Architects

Meet local architects and tour their offices. You'll see how architectural dreams become a reality. Plus, you'll explore architecture's past and present and see how new technologies are affecting the field of architecture. View award winning designs and talk to the designers that created them.

Learn from Design Professionals

This is a great opportunity to learn from some of the very best. Special guests who are experts in their particular area will guide "urban classroom" tours. For example, a historian will guide the students through the historic downtown buildings, a landscape architecture will compare Kiley Gardens and Plant Park at the University of Tampa, and architects will conduct tours of their offices complete with presentations of recent award-winning projects.

Who is eligible?

The program is open to high school students entering 10th, 11th or 12th grades who are interested in a career in architecture and design.

What does it cost?

Tuition is $350 for the entire 10 day program and includes tuition, class materials entry fees and lunch. Scholarships will be provided for those students who need financial assistance.

How do I apply?

Call the AIA Office and register. Enrollment is limited to twenty students. Do it today!
